With Cairo Top Tours, you will embark on an adventure that combines the charm of the south with the secrets of the desert

as we depart from the heart of Aswan, the land of the sun and the ancient Nubian monuments that enchant its visitors, to one of the most beautiful and exotic natural and historical regions of Egypt that attract tourists to explore it and enjoy its picturesque nature: Wadi El-Rayan and Wadi El-Hitan in Fayoum.

Our journey begins by moving from the south to a unique world of beauty, where Wadi El-Rayan, where the Wadi El-Rayan Reserve is characterized by its integrated desert environment with its sand dunes, natural springs, different plant life, various wild and important animals and various marine fossils. Waterfalls flow in a rare spectacle in the middle of the desert. Additionally, we are able to enjoy the tranquil and magnificent scenery that is unparalleled anywhere.

Our adventure into the depths of geological history will next continue in the Valley of the Whales, a World Heritage Site, where we will discover the petrified skeletons of whales that once lived in a desert that was once the bottom of a massive sea. We can observe the evolution of life on Earth by going back millions of years.

Unrivalled discovery, peace, and awe in the captivating landscape of Egypt.

Day Trip to Wadi El Rayan and Whales Valley from Aswan

After picking you up in a private, air-conditioned vehicle, our driver will transport you to Aswan Airport so you can catch your flight. When you get to Cairo, our guide and car will be there to greet you. Fayoum, which is close to Cairo, will be your next stop.

We will start our Fayoum Day Tour from Aswan by going to Wadi Al-Hitan, the biggest vertebrate fossil mine in the world. From fish to the Egyptian ape, the earliest mammal in the animal kingdom to exhibit human-like traits, some 130 fossil species have been discovered. In addition to the skeletons of numerous other animals and fish, including sharks and bony fish, the Wadi El Hitan Reserve is rich in rare fossils because Twenty to thirty million years ago, it was a part of the Mediterranean Sea. The percentage of remains discovered in any region or time period only ranges between 2.5% and 13%.

Following a delicious local lunch in Tunis Village, we will proceed to the waterfalls and Wadi El Rayan. Since certain Fayoum centers released their excess agricultural runoff into the Wadi El Rayan depression in the 1970s, these waterfalls are natural rather than man-made. Among the most significant tourist destinations and aesthetically pleasing locations is the Wadi El Rayan waterfalls area, where geological monuments, various historical periods, water, plants, animals, and birds all coexist peacefully.

We will take you to Cairo International Airport at the end of the day so you can catch your flight back to Aswan.
