Day Tour
Egypt
Luxor

With much enthusiasm and expectation, we set off for Luxor, the capital of ancient Egypt and the world's biggest outdoor museum, to uncover the mysteries of the Pharaonic culture. When you travel to the Valley of the Kings with Cairo Top Tours,. you will experience a singular experience that will enable you to delve into a significant aspect of the ancient pharaohs' culture. There, you will be met by the quiet rocky mountains that enclose the pharaoh kings' graves. There are inscriptions and artwork that are thousands of years old.

Exploring some of these tombs, especially King Tutankhamun's, will enthrall us with their vibrant hues and tales of eternal life and resurrection.

Next, we'll visit the Valley of the Queens, which is the burial place for the descendants of ancient Egyptian rulers and queens. , The magnificent decorations and stunning beauty of Queen Nefertari's tomb make it particularly remarkable.,. which convey both the queen's position and her husband King Ramses II's love for her.

We next, return to the city center to see the marvelous collection of sculptures, mummies, and artifacts from various times in the Luxor Museum., The museum will be thoughtfully set up so that we can get a close-up look at the original artifacts and learn about their histories.

One of the most exquisite temples in ancient Egypt, Luxor, will be the destination for our final stop. We will be able to stroll around the enormous sculptures and columns of Ramses II, as well as the magnificent inscriptions that tell the stories of the pharaohs. There is an ineffable sense of wonder and majesty about the temple when it is miraculously lighted at night.

An amazing day excursion to Luxor,. allows us to proudly and fascinatedly delve into the depths of Pharaonic history while combining the majesty of the building with the mysticism of the past.

Private Day Trip to Luxor Highlights

We will start our day tour in Luxor with a comfortable pickup from your hotel in a private air-conditioned car. Our guide will be waiting for you at the agreed time to make the most of every moment of your day.

The first step in your day is the Temple of the Queens, which is an important historical and archaeological site located near the ancient city of Thebes, today's Luxor, in Egypt. It served as a cemetery for the wives and children of the pharaohs during the New Kingdom period (1550-1070 BC). Its more than 90 tombs are profusely decorated with religious and magical texts and scenes. Queen Nefertari, the preferred spouse of Pharaoh Ramses II, is one among the notable individuals interred in the Valley of the Queens. Her amazing grave, designated QV66, is among the valley's most exquisite and well-preserved. It is decorated with colorful frescoes depicting the queen's journey to the afterlife.

Next we will head to the Temple of the Valleys, this area has been a center of archaeological and Egyptological excavations since the late 18th century, as its tombs sparked the interest of scholars to expand this type of archaeological studies and excavations. The valley became famous in modern times after the discovery of Tutankhamun's complete tomb and rumors of the curse of the Pharaohs. Even until 1979, when it and the entire funerary city of Thebes were named a World Heritage Site, the valley was still well-known for its archaeological digs. The Valley of the Kings is still being excavated and restored, and a tourist center has recently opened there.

Then we will continue our impressive excursion with a visit to the Temple of Luxor, the temple was built to worship Amun-Ra, his wife Mut and his son Khonsu; gods also known as the Theban Trinity. During the reigns of the XVIII and XIX dynasties, the Temple of Luxor was constructed. The most important structures were built by Amenhotep III (1397–1360 BC) and Ramses II (1290–1223 BC), who expanded the temple's open courtyard, pylon, and two obelisks.

We will close our day with Medinat Habu. The area of Habu is especially sacred to the ancient Egyptians because they believed that the eight gods of creation, according to the Hasmonean doctrine, had landed here, in this area where the temple is located. This temple is called in the ancient Egyptian language “Het Khenmet Hah,” which perhaps means “the temple of the one who is united to the eternal.” This temple is located in the southernmost part of the group of memorial temples of the pharaohs built on the edge of the desert, near the cultivated lands west of Thebes, and it seems that Ramses III ordered its construction in an area that had a certain sacred character, as evidenced by temples and buildings dating from different periods, from the Middle Kingdom to the Coptic era.

Finally, we return to your hotel or anywhere in Luxor.
