Everyday

The Giza Pyramids and Saqqara with Camel Ride Tour takes one through two of Egypt's most esteemed archaeological monuments for a magical day out in the country. The day begins at the Giza Plateau, easily considered to be the largest desert plains serving as the base for the majestic pyramids of Khufu, Khafre, and Menkaure. Next comes a stop at the smiling Sphinx to listen to stories of pharaohs, power, and architecture that have mesmerized the world for centuries.

One of the best ways to soak in the atmosphere of this timeless land is to enjoy a camel ride along the golden dunes of Giza. Holding on to the soft sway of the desert, you will get breathtaking panoramic views of the pyramids—a feeling of connection to the earth and ages gone by.

Your tour then heads away, southward, to the home of revolutionary Step Pyramid of Djoser, the oldest stone pyramid that tilted into history. Explore the huge necropolis and its elaborately decorated tombs with striking wall reliefs and inscriptions that portray tales of daily life and religious ideas dating back to 4,000 years. This tour combines the internationally acclaimed landmarks with lesser-known locations.

Following the camel ride and the Giza exploration, head back south toward Saqqara Necropolis for the world's first pyramid: the Step Pyramid of King Djoser. This milestone structure marks the stone architecture's first appearance in a monument in ancient Egypt. While you tour the sprawling complex of tombs and temples decorated with lively carvings, your guide will reveal more about the intriguing history and ceremonies of this ancient burial ground.
