Step into this captivating passage through the layers of ancient Egyptian history: An entire day at Dahshur and Giza. This excursion ventures off the beaten path into lesser-known but still architecturally impressive pyramids of Dahshur that are built in the far southern part of Cairo. Start your journey with a visit to the Bent Pyramid, an experimental pyramid symbolizing the early tests to perfect pyramid design, and later witness the impressive Red Pyramid, which can proudly hold the title of the very first true smooth-sided pyramid ever built.

Dahshur is the land where these quiet wonders abound, but the journey extends next to the Giza Plateau, hosting the most celebrated pyramids in the world. Bend in awe at the Great Pyramid of Khufu, the Pyramid of Khafre, and the smaller Pyramid of Menkaure. One can also walk alongside the Great Sphinx whose silent gaze has kept watch over the sands of time for more than 4,500 years.

Throughout the day, you shall be driven comfortably inside an air-conditioned vehicle and waist-deep inside the impeccable narration from start to finish. Perfectly combining the charm of lesser-known Dahshur with the grandeur of Giza, this tour promises an enriching and balanced experience amidst Egypt's ancient splendor.

Itinerary

Giza Pyramids and Dahshur Pyramids Tour

Create unforgettable memories as you journey deep into Egypt's long history on a guided trip to Giza and Dahshur Pyramids. Your private guide will pick you up at your hotel in a modern air-conditioned vehicle to transport you directly to the Giza Plateau, home to one of the ancient world's Greatest Wonders — the Great Pyramid of King Khufu. Along with commentary from your expert Egyptologist, the group will visit the mysterious Valley Temple, the place where mummification rituals of kings were held.

After touring the Giza Plateau, continue to the less-recognized but striking Dahshur Necropolis, which lies about 40 minutes south of Cairo. Here, you will be admiring the odd-looking Bent Pyramid, which tells the story of the evolution of pyramid engineering, and the Red Pyramid, widely considered the first successful true pyramid, both erected by King Snefru. These architectural monuments provide a calm, unrushed ambiance with breathtaking views of the desert. In conclusion, dine at an Egyptian restaurant.
