The Gran Egyptian Museum: Treasure Trove of Ancient Artifacts

Beginning with the Grand Egyptian Museum visit, a cultural house at the outskirts of Cairo headed toward an avalanche of artifacts speaking about Egypt's rich history. Housing more than 100,000 objects-including priceless treasures from the tomb of King Tutankhamun, monumental statues, jewelry, and mummies-the grand Egyptian museum stands as the largest archaeological museum in the world dedicated to a single civilization. It therefore remains a must-see for every visitor to Egypt.

The modern galleries of the museum create an exciting experience to explore the fine details of ancient Egyptian culture. The treasures of King Tutankhamun, including the well-known golden mask and the royal chariot, are featured attractions among others. Expert guides will add great value to your tours by explaining the importance of each exhibit, helping you to get the most from the wonderful wonders of ancient Egypt.

The Pyramids of Giza: A Marvel of Ancient Engineering

Next, your tour fared toward the great Pyramids of Giza, which are an everlasting symbol of ancient Egyptian genius and one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World. These three huge structures, namely the Great Pyramid of Khufu, the Pyramid of Khafre, and the Pyramid of Menkaure, stand as spectacular evidence of the architectural magnificence of ancient Egypt. Those who stand before these land-mark-size edifices are left in awe by the gargantuan scale and precision, which have stood for the last 4,500 years.

Another famous site of this Giza complex is the Great Sphinx of Giza, which boasts a lion's body and a human head.
