All-day tour to Port Said with its heritage and other young culture. Traveling toward Port Said with this option caters particularly to day trippers and cruise passengers who are planning a full immersion in one of Egypt's coastal cities. Port Said has its maritime traditions and peculiar mixing of European and Egyptian influences, as it is placed at the mouth of the Suez Canal.

One could say Port Said is best known for its grand colonial edifices, colorful bazaars spots, and waterfront views worthy of a postcard. The somewhat laid-back charm of history may put some pep into your walk after those often roisterous walks outside in one of the more commercialized tourist centers in Egypt. Understand Port Said, the city of existence, how it is placed in global trade, and day-to-day living in the city.

Without a doubt, this will prove to be a relaxing and enriching day trip with round-trip transport, a knowledgeable guide, and carefully selected stops that bring out the spirit of the city. If you are history and culture inclined or would just love to embrace this hidden gem of Egypt, it will grant you in-depth and unforgettable coverage of Port Said. An impeccable opportunity for travelers who want two or three hours in port to be filled with a genuine, informative outing.

Itinerary

Port Said Day Tour from Port Said Port

Your shore adventure begins once docking and walking straight into downtown Port Said. After meeting your local guide, comfortable transport will take you on an exploration of the city and the mixture of history, culture, and seaside charm it has to offer.

Firstly, the greatest waterway of the World stands at Suez Canal. Witness and admire this naval marvel and vessels from all over the globe, alongside your engineer, while the guide narrates interesting facts about its role in world trade and Egyptian history.

Next will be a walk around the old quarters of Port Said, wherein beautiful 19th-century-style architecture speaks of times long gone by. The Military Museum will then show you how more recent events in Egypt's history are charted by exhibit and artifacts.

The expedition proceeds with the local market, bursting with the colors, scents, and sounds of life. Communicate with cheerful vendors, taste extraordinary treats, or grab a memorable souvenir.

When the tour ends, you will be driven back to the port with a deeper knowledge of this coastal treasure. Crafted for cruise passengers who are pressed for time, this tour package gives full flavor of Port Said's personality and culture.
