Cairo Day Tour to Giza Pyramids, Memphis, and Medium

It is now your turn to find out how these great pyramids of Giza were constructed and for this, you have to go back in time by almost 200 years and about the Great Pyramid of Giza which was built by King Cheops who still mesmerizes people with the importance of his creative work. With Cairo Day Tours we drive you to the burial ground for the city that was the heart of Egypt in the Old Kingdom period.

Take a walk in Memphis city an open-air museum that houses the largest statue of Ramses II and other statues and structures plus visit the Bent Pyramid of Snefru also known as the Meidum Pyramid and look out for great structures that were built 465 centuries ago as monuments of the Egyptian kings and rulers who shaped the golden age of the Egyptian civilization. Proceed to the Necropolis of Giza where will be located the Great Pyramid of Cheops, the second Pyramid of Chephren, the third Pyramid of Mycerinus The Great Sphinx of the Man-headed Lion, and the Temple of The Valley – the temple of King Chephren. Depending on the duration of your Egypt Day Tours or after your Cairo tours, lunch will be provided. This is a tour that mostly involves going around the pyramids of Giza however, you can always alter the itinerary to include more places that interest you. Explore Memphis, Egypt's first Capital, and the bent pyramids in Meidum.

Local tourist guides who convey particular information about the King Cheops give more opportunities to the tourists to learn Egyptian culture and history during the sightseeing tour, and therefore give closer contact with history.
