The Bahariya Oasis is situated in the western desert of Egypt about 370 kilometers from Giza but it will approximately take four hours to drive to this place from the core of Cairo city. It is made up of a cluster of dissected small and fragmented villages, the most populous and perhaps the best known today is Bawiti village which is among the largest and the headquarters of the district.

Go on with your tour Honey after your local lunch. Following the Black Desert, the route takes you through the Valley of El Haize, the southernmost village of Bahariya Oasis, blessed with a clear source of water. Then drive to Crystal Mountain where the crystals resembled shimmering stars in the sky. One of the most fascinating features of this desert is the Valley of Agabat which has various shapes of gray and strange-shaped rocks painted cream and white and sand storms were the causes of this valley.
