Day 1: Cairo - Bahariya Oasis - White Desert

Your pick-up will be in the morning from your Hotel in Cairo or from Giza but in a very comfortable and conditioned car. Your professional tour guide for Baharya Oasis is also helped out to you. Moreover, there is an efficient green area before arriving at the historical blight in which an oasis is close to the zone.

A good to know, therefore the first Interesting Site is called the Valley of Golden Mummies where two Ultimate mummies do that magnificent burying work. From here one can enjoy being free extent within the boundaries of the Tombs of Noble and it is a suitable name for the rank of the upper ancient Bahariya social circle. However, those tombs of Zed-Amun-Ef-Ankh and Bannentiu tombs are rather famous within the listed cemeteries because these tombs contain funerary inserts considered as 'layering', or sequential narration that indicates the interaction between cultures in those regions.

The other one is Alexander the Great temple where, as the history of the place reports, she once fell asleep on the way to the Siwa oasis. During the first scientific expedition to Egypt, it was possible to attribute the temple of Ain El-Mefetla to the already mentioned 26th dynasty. However, other evidence posts that have been presented thereafter have pointed out the fact that this temple for worship contained five chapels and had played a very significant role in making up for the study of this cult statue.

Day 2: Back to Cairo

When this tea is boiled it is usually taken early in the morning. Waking in the morning and feeling like a king while you are doing the hiking. The first positive activity for people is a hot springs bath since the water frees one from effort physically and mentally, and technical people establish that they are in a special place.

Today – the whiteness of Egypt's desert in which rocks are concentrated in the form of 'rabbit ears,' and hourglass-like polished mushroom-shaped cliffs. The rather interesting thing here is that this place is surrounded by many other places that can cause interest in terms of the zones for photo-shooting and playing with nature.

But even before Cairo, the small oasis of Bahariya is found this is an oasis located in the middle of the desert and a green zone on a sea of sand The other site of interest that one can visit is the Black Desert which is almost on every side of the roads fully covered with small black volcanic stones, therefore the name. You will also be able to visit some other parts such as the saltwater lavatories and Worksheets about the region's sands and the story about the area from the Bedouin guide and other attractions.
