Next, we'll visit the renowned Egyptian Museum, also known as the Museum of Cairo. This museum, situated in Cairo, Egypt, boasts an abundant collection of ancient Egyptian artifacts. With 120,000 items in its possession, it showcases a representative selection, while the rest are stored safely. Established in 1901 by Italian builders Garozzo-Zaffarani and designed by French architect Marcel Dourgnon, the structure is one of the region's largest museums. As of March 2019, the museum has been open to the public. However, by 2020, the new Grand Egyptian Museum at Giza is set to take over its role.

Following our museum visit, we will savor a meal at a local restaurant before returning to your hotel for a relaxing overnight stay.
