The trip begins with a transfer via the El-Alamein road. Your first stop is at El Alamein, where you'll visit the World War II Museum and explore the cemeteries from the battle of 1942. The site commemorates the crucial Allied victory led by Britain's Field Marshal Montgomery, which halted the German-Italian advance towards the Nile. Pay your respects at the Commonwealth War Cemetery, with its 7,000 white headstones honoring soldiers from Australia, New Zealand, and Britain, and visit the memorials established by these nations.

Following your time at El Alamein, you'll drive along the picturesque Mediterranean coast to Marsa Matrouh for a delicious seafood lunch. From there, continue the journey to Siwa Oasis, a scenic four-hour drive from Marsa Matrouh.

Afterward, explore the Mountain of the Dead (Jabal el Mawta), where you can see the tombs of Siwa's rulers from the 26th dynasty, including the tombs of SI Amon, MSW Isis, and the Crocodile Tomb.
